Immigration law experience:

Kristy Pagel-Stumpp is the firm's Global Program Manager. Prior to joining Pearl Law Group, Kristy managed corporate client accounts for two prominent immigration law firms in the country. She provided consultation on a variety of global visa and work permit matters, helped clients implement internal policies to centralize their immigration program, resolved escalations and developed resources for individuals, mid-size and large multinational companies in a wide range of industries. She has spoken on global immigration matters and trends for several relocation roundtables. She has also created process flows, manuals, complex matrices and other tools to help companies streamline their processes and better service their business and expat employees.

Kristy has an M.B.A in International Management from the Thunderbird School of Global Management and gained extensive training and experience in global business strategies, cross-cultural communications, business development, project management and operations. She has studied abroad in Seoul, South Korea and Prague, Czech Republic.

Q. What is your connection with immigration?

A. I came to the U.S. on a medical visa from South Korea at age eight and was later adopted by my American family. My parents helped me through the lengthy naturalization process and celebrated with me after the citizenship ceremony when I was eighteen. I still remember trying to cram for the naturalization test!

Q. What is a fun fact about you?

A. I won a trip to Aruba at a fundraising benefit one year and lasik eye surgery at another! No lottery win yet... but my fingers are crossed.
